Q: ListView.SelectedIndexChanged Method is not firing I have a ListView with several DataGridViews and a couple of ComboBoxes. Some cells of the DataGridViews are generated after selection. But the problem is, when they are created, the ListView.SelectedIndexChanged event never fires. So I thought about changing the ListView.SelectionChanged event to the ListView.ItemSelected event and then have a more specific handler that would be able to create the new data. The problem is, even when the ListView.SelectedIndexChanged event fires and the user selects another item the ListView.SelectedIndexChanged handler doesn't fire. private void listView_SelectionChanged(object sender, EventArgs e) { if (!listView.SelectedItems.Contains(list
