Like many teenagers in their twenties, Heileen spent her twenties self-destructively. She has been in and out of rehab for the last five years, and more recently she has started to use addiction as a way to heal her pain and her past. But as her life continues to unravel, the unknown that she found so terrifying during her childhood is becoming less of a nightmare and more like a call to adventure. While the first game, "Sail Away" was a cathartic retreat from reality, the new game will demand much more of her. We are in 2001, and Heileen is about to embark on a new journey that will shake her core and change her life. Major differences between Heileen 2 and Heileen 1: • More deadly sins and more virtues • New characters and new quests • New location: a haunted old estate in the south of France • New romance options • New endings • 20 new quests What's more, Heileen's life depends on her choices. Every character has his/her own path, so don't expect the same outcome for all of your friends. That's why we expect you to use your own imagination and open-ended solutions! The State argued prejudice had not been shown because the trial court overruled the defense's objection and provided the alternative instruction. At the very least, the State continued, it could have provided more instruction to the jury, instead of providing an alternative. The State further noted that if the jury still believed that someone could have been inconsistent, they should have requested clarification or further instruction. See Sandstrom v. Montana, 442 U.S. 510, 523-24, 99 S. Ct. 2450, 61 L. Ed.2d 39 (1979). The State also argued that even if the trial court erred, the error was harmless beyond a reasonable doubt because the jury in the habeas corpus proceedings had heard the exact same evidence, and the jury still found Hattaway not guilty. The Supreme Court of Mississippi said it could not say that the failure to instruct regarding "hesitant or equivocal" testimony hurt Hattaway because the witnesses did not equivocate and the jury knew which witnesses to watch for equivocation. Hattaway, 823 So. 2d at 687. The court reasoned that because of the overwhelming evidence against Hattaway, any time an instruction was given it could not have made any difference. Id. This position is familiar to many of the courts that have faced the issue of the need to provide during State's closing argument implies that convicted defendant's requests for
